

Get &
REAL

The brain keeps developing until about age 25. Alcohol and other drug use during teen years can cause problems with learning, memory, complex decision-making, coping with personal situations and developing proper relationships.

Northern Lights Youth Services. Find us on Facebook or visit nlpulse.com

Get &
REAL

The brain keeps developing until about age 25. Alcohol and other drug use during teen years can cause problems with learning, memory, complex decision-making, coping with personal situations and developing proper relationships.

Northern Lights Youth Services. Find us on Facebook or visit nlpulse.com

Get & REAL

The brain keeps developing until about age 25. Alcohol and other drug use during teen years can cause problems with learning, memory, complex decision-making, coping with personal situations and developing proper relationships.

Northern Lights Youth Services. Find us on Facebook or visit nlpulse.com

Get & REAL

The brain keeps developing until about age 25. Alcohol and other drug use during teen years can cause problems with learning, memory, complex decision-making, coping with personal situations and developing proper relationships.

Northern Lights Youth Services. Find us on Facebook or visit nlpulse.com